RELOCATION GUIDE

AMERICAN TITLE
SERVICE AGENCY

THE VALLEY OF THE SUN

American Title Service Agency is proud to present this Relocation Guide! If you're considering a move to the Valley of the Sun, this resource will help you jumpstart your transition to the vibrant Greater Phoenix area.

Arizona continues to be one of the fastest-growing destinations in the country, attracting newcomers every year with its unmatched lifestyle. With more than 300 days of sunshine annually, outdoor living is second nature here. Whether you love hiking the Sonoran Desert trails, enjoying world-class golf, or exploring scenic lakes and mountains, Arizona offers endless recreational opportunities.

Beyond the outdoors, the Valley is home to a thriving dining scene, luxury shopping, renowned resorts, and professional sports teams, making it a hub for entertainment and leisure. As the cultural heart of the Southwest, Phoenix also boasts award-winning museums, performing arts venues, and a growing calendar of festivals and community events.

On the business side, Greater Phoenix is a leader in technology, healthcare, education, and finance, attracting companies and professionals from across the nation. Combined with diverse neighborhoods, excellent schools, and a lower cost of living compared to many major U.S. cities, it's no wonder so many people are proud to call Arizona home.

A QUICK HISTORY OF PHOENIX

- Arizona is home to 22 national parks and monuments, highlighted by the iconic Grand Canyon—recognized as one of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World.
- The state does not follow daylight savings time, though the Navajo Nation in the northeast does. Arizona stays on Mountain Standard Time all year long.
- Across the state, 31 parks and natural areas protect Arizona's cultural, recreational, and environmental treasures.
- Arizona also has the highest percentage of land set aside as American Indian territory, with 22 tribes calling the state home. The Navajo Nation is the largest among them.

MONUMENT VALLEY

Monument Valley, also known as the Valley of Rocks, is home to the Native American population of the Navajos. Located about 3 hours from the Grand Canyon, the Valley has sandstone rock formations that rise 400 to 1,000 feet above the valley floor. Visitors can enjoy hotels, camping, and glamping.

GLEN CANYON RECREATION AREA

Covering over 1.25 million acres of land and water, Glen Canyon National Recreation Area spans from the Orange Cliffs of southern Utah to Lee's Ferry in Arizona. Glen Canyon Dam, part of the recreation area, was built to harness the Colorado River's power and provide water and energy to people in the West.

ROUTE 66

Also called the Mother Road, Route 66 is a symbol of America's car culture and history. It weaves through historic towns across Arizona, offering travelers a nostalgic journey into the past.

HAVASU FALLS

Near the village of Supai, Havasu Falls is one of Arizona's most iconic waterfalls. Falling 100 feet into turquoise pools, it's part of Havasu Creek and the Grand Canyon. Visitors often describe it as unforgettable.

BEAVER FALLS TRAIL

This 24.5-mile trail near Supai is heavily trafficked and considered difficult. Visitors will encounter numerous waterfalls, including Havasu Falls and Beaver Falls, making it one of the best waterfall hikes in Arizona.

HORSESHOE BEND

One of the most famous views in the U.S., Horseshoe Bend near Page features a dramatic curve in the Colorado River. The meander was carved over millions of years, creating an iconic viewpoint that draws travelers worldwide.

VERMILLION CLIFFS

Located in northern Coconino County, Vermillion Cliffs National Monument covers 293,000 acres and protects the Paria Canyon-Vermillion Cliffs Wilderness. It is home to White Pocket, Coyote Buttes, and "The Wave," one of Arizona's most photographed sites.

SAGUARO NATIONAL PARK

Located in Tucson, Saguaro NP is home to the nation's largest cacti. The giant saguaros can live up to 200 years while growing over 40 feet tall. The park is also home to unique plant and animal species found only in this small portion of the U.S.

BARRINGER CRATER

Formed about 50,000 years ago by a meteor strike, Barringer Crater is nearly a mile wide and 600 feet deep. Known as Meteor Crater, it's one of the best-preserved impact craters on Earth and an unforgettable stop for visitors.

ARIZONA SNOWBOWL

Located in northern Arizona, Snowbowl offers a bird's-eye view from the Arizona Gondola, reaching up to 11,500 feet. On clear days, visitors can see cinder cone volcanoes, red rocks in Sedona, and even the Grand Canyon.

MOGOLLON RIM

Near Flagstaff, the Mogollon Rim offers expansive views and outdoor recreation like hiking, horseback riding, rock climbing, hunting, fishing, and boating. Stretching 200 miles, the Rim features unique geological rock dating back to the Precambrian era.

CANYON DE CHELLY

Located in northeastern Arizona, Canyon de Chelly offers breathtaking sandstone walls rising up to 1,000 feet. The area is rich in Navajo history and remarkable geological formations, giving visitors insight into the lives of the people who once inhabited the canyon.

HIT THE TRAILS

DEVIL'S BRIDGE

A 3.9-mile out-and-back trail with an elevation gain of 521 ft. Considered moderately challenging, it takes about 1 hr 39 min to complete. Leads to the area's largest natural sandstone arch, which you can walk across. Extra stunning when covered in snow.

Moderate

BRIGHT ANGEL TRAIL

A 15.3-mile out-and-back trail with an elevation gain of 4,478 ft. Considered challenging, it takes about 9 hr 6 min to complete. The most popular hike in the Grand Canyon, best done in late winter or early spring to avoid crowds. Hard

CATHEDRAL ROCK

A 1.2-mile out-and-back trail near Sedona with an elevation gain of 741 ft. Considered challenging, it takes just over 1 hr to complete. Short and steep with technical sections, not ideal for beginners. Expansive views await experienced hikers. Hard

GRAND FALLS

An 11-mile out-and-back trail near Leupp with an elevation gain of 187 ft. Rated easy, it takes about 31 minutes to complete. Best when snow melts, creating a powerful cascade. Hike is only half a mile from the parking area. Easy

BRIGHT ANGEL POINT

A 0.9-mile trail with an elevation gain of 144 ft. Rated easy, it takes about 25 minutes to complete. Offers stunning views and is popular during the North Rim's winter closure. Easy

ROMERO CANYON

A 5.5-mile out-and-back trail near Catalina with an elevation gain of 1,322 ft. Considered challenging, it takes about 2 hr 58 min. Features shallow wading areas and waterfalls, with opportunities to cool off. Hard

RIBBON FALLS

A 16.8-mile out-and-back trail near North Rim, Arizona with an elevation gain of 5,380 ft. Considered challenging, it takes about 10 hr 29 min. Features lush scenery and a 100-ft waterfall dropping onto a travertine mass. Hard

BEAR CANYON

An 8.3-mile out-and-back trail near Tucson with an elevation gain of 1,013 ft. Rated moderately challenging, it takes about 3 hr 26 min. Leads to a seven-tiered waterfall and swimming holes, popular for cooling off. Moderate

ASPEN NATURE TRAIL

A 2.7-mile loop near Flagstaff with an elevation gain of 360 ft. Considered moderately challenging, it takes about 1 hr 9 min. Known for aspens, spruce, and pine—one of the best fall hikes thanks to golden aspen groves.

Moderate

TRANSEPT TRAIL

A 3.3-mile out-and-back trail near Sedona with an elevation gain of 541 ft. Moderately challenging, it takes about 1 hr 31 min. Rumored to be the spookiest trail in Arizona, great for October hikes. Moderate

WEST FORK TRAIL

A 6.5-mile out-and-back trail near Munds Park with an elevation gain of 564 ft. Considered moderately challenging, it takes about 2 hr 26 min. Passes through red-rock canyons and stunning seasonal colors. Moderate

CAMELBACK MOUNTAIN

A 2.5-mile out-and-back trail with an elevation gain of 1,420 ft. Considered challenging, it takes about 2 hr 13 min. Difficult hike with big payoffs—December is especially festive with a decorated "Camelback Mountain Christmas Tree." Hard

DAY ESCAPES

GRAND CANYON

One of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World, the Grand Canyon showcases breathtaking views and dramatic geology. Located in northern Arizona, it's about 80 miles from Flagstaff and offers hiking, sightseeing, and historic sites like the Grand Canyon Village.

KARTCHNER CAVERNS

Located south of Tucson, this state park features 2.5 miles of underground limestone caves, including the world's longest stalactite. Guided tours highlight unique formations, geology, and the delicate cave ecosystem.

SEDONA

Known for its red rock formations, hiking, vortex sites, spas, and thriving arts scene. Bell Rock and Oak Creek Canyon are popular hikes, and visitors also enjoy the shops, galleries, and Chapel of the Holy Cross.

ANTELOPE CANYON

This slot canyon near Page is famous for its surreal light beams and flowing sandstone walls carved by wind and water over millions of years. It's one of the most photographed natural wonders in the U.S.

WINSLOW

A classic stop on Route 66, Winslow is best known for the Eagles' song Take It Easy and "Standin' on a Corner Park." The historic La Posada Hotel is also a popular attraction.

JEROME

Once a booming mining town, Jerome is now a hillside community filled with art galleries, wineries, shops, and historic sites. Its steep streets and sweeping views make it a fun day trip.

HOOVER DAM

Straddling the Arizona-Nevada border, this Depression-era engineering marvel offers tours, exhibits, and breathtaking views of the Colorado River and Lake Mead.

PETRIFIED FOREST NATIONAL PARK

Home to colorful petrified wood, ancient fossils, and badland landscapes spread across more than 220,000 acres. Visitors can hike trails or drive scenic routes through this otherworldly park.

MONTEZUMA CASTLE

This well-preserved cliff dwelling was built by the Sinagua people more than 600 years ago. Set into a limestone cliff above Beaver Creek, it's one of Arizona's most impressive archaeological sites.

TOMBSTONE

The "Town Too Tough to Die" is a living Wild West experience with daily re-enactments at the O.K. Corral, historic saloons, and museums that celebrate its colorful past.

TOP 12 CAMPGROUNDS

ORGAN PIPE CACTUS

Gilbert Ray Campground in Tucson Mountain Park is another extraordinary campground that gives you the feeling of wilderness camping even though you're just 15 minutes from the main attractions of Tucson. Campsites can be booked in advance, and this is recommended for the peak season from December to April.

THE GRAND CANYON

Camping here is one of the best ways to experience this world wonder without the crowds. Watching sunrise or sunset over the canyon is unforgettable. Sites can be reserved up to six months in advance during peak season, or first-come, first-served the rest of the year.

GLEN CANYON

Along Lake Powell near Page, Glen Canyon offers large, level camping areas with plenty of space to spread out. Camping is free, but there's a park entry fee.

GILBERT RAY

Just 15 minutes from Tucson, Gilbert Ray Campground feels remote but is close to city attractions. Campsites can be reserved, especially for peak season from December to April.

LAKE HAVASU

Known for its beaches and boating scene, Lake Havasu camping is lively and social. Sites come with water and 50-amp hookups, perfect for those seeking fun over quiet solitude.

OAK CREEK CANYON

Near Sedona, Oak Creek Canyon features Manzanita, Cave Springs, and Pine Flat campgrounds, all close to hikes and Slide Rock State Park. Sites can be reserved up to six months in advance.

CHIRICAHUA

Chiricahua National Monument offers cooler, forested camping at Bonita Canyon Campground, set over 5,000 feet high. Sites are private, well-spaced, and reservable up to six months ahead.

SPILLWAY

At 7,500 feet on the Mogollon Rim, Spillway Campground is small, scenic, and cool even in summer. Set on Woods' Lake, it's a popular spot for fishing and recreation.

CATALINA STATE PARK

Close to Tucson, Catalina State Park offers two campgrounds with large paved sites and amenities like showers. It's a convenient mix of city access and nature.

LYNX CAMPGROUND

Just outside Prescott, Lynx Campground sits among ponderosa pines near Lynx Lake. With 35 sites in seven loops, it's a popular summer destination.

BONITO CAMPGROUND

Near Flagstaff, Bonito Campground sits among volcanic terrain, offering 44 first-come, first-served sites at 6,900 feet. Cool in summer and snowy in winter.

USERY MOUNTAIN

In Mesa, Usery Mountain Regional Park has 73 spacious sites with water, power, picnic tables, and fire pits. Restrooms have hot showers, and reservations are available up to six months ahead.
